LYNCHING BILL PASSES HOUSE BY 230 TO 119

Eight Democrats Vote With Republicans For The Measure

SENATE MAY DEFEAT

Bill Provides Life Term For Lynchers And $10,000 to Families of Victims

Washington, Jan. 26.—Without a ripple of excitement, amid scenes as strikingly tame as the previous day's session was uproarious, the House by a vote of 230 to 119 late yesterday, passed the Anti-Lynching bill and sent the measure over the Senate.

It was another Federal enforcement act to penalize both the participants in lynching bees and State and local authorities who conspire with the lynchers or fail to perform their duties as officers of the law.

Neither cheers nor handclapping nor other visible expression of feeling marked the final announcement of the vote nor was there any attempt at demonstration among the contingent of negroes in the sparsely-occupied galleries. It was a tame wind-up of what had threatened to be a lively climax of debate on a measure whose constitutionality had been challenged and which brought up the issue between the functions of the State and the Federal Government.

The bill in its final form was drafted by Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, somewhat widely known as the author of the Prohobition Enforcement law. He offered it as an amendment for the entire Dyer bill that had been before the House, and it was adopted first as an amendment, and then passed as the House measure.

Seventeen Republicans could not follow the majority of their party and voted with the Democrats against the bill, while eight Democrats voted with the Republicans for it, as follows:

Republicans against: Barbour, California: Brown, Tennessee: Clouse, Tennessee: Curry, California; French, Idaho: Herrick, Oklahoma: Hersey, Maine: Jones, Pennsylvania; Kelley, Michigan; Dayton, Delaware; Luce, Massachusetts; Nolan, California; Parker, New Jersey; Miss Robertson, Oklahoma: Sinnott, Oregon; Slemp, Virginia; Stafford, Winsonsin.

Democrats for: Campbell, Pennsylvania: Cockran, New York: Cullen, New York: Gallivan, Massachusetts: Johnson, Kentucky; Mead, New York: O'Brien, New Jersey: Rainey, Illinois.

Voting "Present"—Dunbar, Indiana; Evans, Nebraska: Langley, Kentucky; Robert, Pennsylvania.

Meyer, London, the lone Socialist, voted for the bill.

Under the leadership of Representative Finis J. Garrett, of Tennessee, acting Democratic leader, the Democrats purposely ignored a chance offered by a large group of Republicans to devitalize the measure, thus throwing the responsibility squarely on the whole membership of the Republican party. Minority leaders expect the bill to meet its Waterloo in the Senate.

PRISONERS' RELIEF

Funds Will be Solicited Here For This Organization

A new day has dawned for the one time convict. Thanks to the sincere and capable efforts of the Prisoners Relief Society. Up to recently persons leaving prison with the felon brand found practically every hand turned against them. Dr. E. Dudding some years ago started the Prisoners Relief Society down in West Virginia and about five years ago it was decided to make the work national and the headquarters of the society was moved to 509 E St., N. W., Washington, D. C., and as Mr. Dudding planned the work has become nation wide. Some sixty thousand ex-convicts have been saved by the society, and it is said that the Prisoners Relief Society has done more for men leaving prison than any individual or organization in the world.

The society is well vouched for has a strong board of directors among the active directors are: Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, mother of Senator Davis Elkins, of West Virginia. Mr. Charles W. Warden, Vice President of the Continental Trust Co., is Treasurer of the Society.

A young lady of Washington will be in Alexandria for a week or so soliciting funds for the Prisoners Relief Society and our citizens could not find a more worthy charity. Making good citizens out of murderers, robbers, and thieves, is the highest type of philanthropy.

Miss Evelyn Howard, Miss Margaret Paff, Miss Ruth Le Hew, and Miss Louise Marsh, left this morning for Lexington, to attend the V. M. I. winter hops.

IN CONGRESS

YESTERDAY

SENATE

An amendment to the foreign debt refunding bill was adopted, providing that the bonds shall not bear interest at a rate lower than 4 1-4 per cent.

An amendment to the foreign debt bill was offered by Senator Johnson, California, requiring approval of Congress to any arrangements made. Senator Watson, Indiana, defended the administration plan, while Senator Borah and others assailed the provision which would empower the Treasury Secretary and a Commission to conclude the negotiations.

A resolution providing for an investigation of activities blocking development of the Muscles Shoals project by Henry Ford, was introduced by Senator Harris, Georgia.

Chairman McCumber of the Finance committee stated that the tariff bill would be reported to the Senate by March 1. Hearings on valuation plans will be resumed next Tuesday.

The Wadsworth bill provided for the creation of a bureau of civil aviation in the Department of Commerce, was favorably reported.

Chairman Brandegee, of the special committee investigating charges of Senator Watson Georgia that American soldiers were brutally treated or shot without courtmartial in France, announced following the hearing of eighteen additional witnesses that the hearings probably would be concluded early next week.

Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, assailed the agricultural conference, declaring that palliative measures would not remedy the distressful condition of farmers.

THE HOUSE

The Dyer anti-lynching bill was passed by a vote of 230 to 119, the House defeating a motion by Representative Summers Texas, to recommit the bill, thus killing it. Alice Robertson, the Congresswoman from Oklahoma, was cheered by Democrats when she voted against the measure.

A liberal immigration policy permitting desirable aliens to come into the United States without restrictions, was advocated by Louis Marshall, New York, before the House Immigration committee.

Investigation of propaganda by representatives of American oil interests in Mexico, wrs asked in a resolution introduced by Representative Connally, Texas.

Creation of a supervisor of milk for the District of Columbia, was suggested by Representative Millspaugh at the milk hearing before the District Committee.

Prompt authorization by congress of improvements in the Wilmington Harbor, was urged by members of the harbor commission of Wilmington, Del., before the rivers and harbors committee.

It was announced by the Ways and Means committee that hearings would be begun Tuesday on the soldier bonus bill.

Representative Kindrick, of New York introduced a bill providing for removal of the woman's suffrage statue from the crypt of the capitol to the rotunda.

Representative Reed, New York, introduced a bill providing for the construction of a ship canal between Lake Erie and the Hudson river.

CONFERENCE IS WAITING FOR CHINESE REPLY

Believed to be Weighing U. S. Support Against Unpopularity at Home

MAY COMPROMISE

Other Issues Are Being Cleared Away After Meeting With Japanese Delegates.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The conference marked time yesterday, while the Chinese delegation stood on one foot and them on the other. They are under pressure from Americans and others to accept the pending Shantung compromise. At the same time they are acutely conscious of the howl of rage that will go up at home if the Japanese are granted the voice in the Shantung railroad administration that is contemplated by the compromise.

Almost everywhere, the belief is, as it has been for some days, that the Chinese will accept. But last night there were men close to the delegation who said impressively that there is genuine doubt. It is one thing, according to these men, to give the Japanese a voice in the administration; it is another to give them a controlling voice—even for a limited period—and there is fear that the compromise would make the Japanese voice controlling.

Until Shantung is settled one way or the other, the conference will jog along ineffectively in other fields as it did yesterday, when the meeting of the Far Eastern Committee

PRETTY WEDDING

Miss Lillian Gray Blackwell Bride of Mr. Percy Bruce Bass of Richmond

Christ Episcopl Church was the scene of a pretty wedding at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening when Miss Lillian Gray Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blackwell, of Rosemont, and Mr. Percy Bruce Bass, of Richmond, was solemnized, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton, rector of that church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she was accompanied to the chancel by her brother, Mr. Robert Reynolds Blackwell.

The bride was attired in a dark blue traveling gown with hat to match.

The maid of honor was Miss Lillian Gray Fetter, of Greensboro, N. C., who wore blue satin with pink hat and carried pink carnations. Mr. Robert Bass, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Wilna Clendennin, of Greensboro, N. C., was bridesmaid. She wore pink silk with silver hat trimmed in pink roses. The ushers were Messrs. Fenner Anderson, of Lynchburg, Va., uncle of the bride. Mr. Randolph Morrow, of Baltimore, Md.

Following the wedding the couple left for a southern bridal trip to Richmond, Baltimore, and New York. They will make their home in Jersey City, N J.

Copper Gasoline Cans Are Taken by Police

Nineteen copper cans early this afternoon were taken from the store of Sam Mendelson, 1110 King street by Policemen Magner and Durrer and brought to police station.

The cans have a capacity it is estimated by the police of from five to fifteen gallons.

The cans are marked, "Heavy Copper Gasoline Cans for Storing or Shipping Gasoline or Oil." The police say the proprietor of the store will be cited into court when the matter will be investigated by Justice Duvall.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 27.—Restrictions on the sale of denatured alcohol for use in automobile radiators is the latest plan of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. Legal advisers of the commissioner are working on a new regulation to be issued by the Treasury Department which would make it necessary not noly for every garage and automobile supply house which sells alcohol, but every user of alcohol, even for radiator purposes, to have a permit to sell or purchase, as the case may be.

Under the proposed restrictions, if an automobile owner sought to buy a quart or more of alcohol to prevent his radiator from freezing, he would have to appear at the office of the nearest prohibition agent and make formal application for a permit to buy the alcohol required.

There are two reasons for the contemplated action of the Prohibition Commissioner. One is the large number of deaths occurring from wood alcohol poisoning and second is the desire to stop up leaks by which grain alcohol is getting into the hands of the bootleggers.

The American State Department has received claims amounting to $224,231,465 filed by citizens of this country against the German government growing out of the World War. Included in the amount mentioned above are claims for loss of life, personal injuries, vessels sunk in submarine warfare, insurance paid and premiums paid on war risk insurance The amount specified includes all claims thus far filed, but in a number of instances the accompanying proof has not been forthcoming and in no case has the Secretary of State acted upon th evalidity of these claims.

According to statistics obtained from the Allen Property Custodian, there is at present under his supervision German property seized during the war amounting to $500,000,000. About $300,000,000 of the total that was originally seized has been returned to the lawful owners.

The United States government, too, has a claim of approximately $300,000,000 expended in maintaining the Army of Occupation in German territory since the signing of the Armistice. Germany, of course, will have to make reparation to the United States for this outlay on the part of our government.

President Harding, it is stated on the highest authority today, will decline the invitation for this government to participate in the economic and financial conference scheduled to open at Genoa, Italy, on March 8. Ever since the receipt of the formal invitation, the President, Secretary of State Hughes and other high administration officials have been giving very careful consideration to the matter. The fact that up to the present time no assurances have come from the European governments invited to take part in the Genoa conference as to the subjects that will be brought up for consideration and that no agenda has been placed in the hands of the American State Denartment have influenced the President in arriving at the conclusion understood to have been reached by him.

Attorney General Daugherty announced today that he has ordered suits brought against certain producers of aircraft for the recovery of large sums of money shown by government auditors to have been overpaid by the government on cost plus contracts durine th war. He stated today that these government accountants have reported to him over payments to the Dayton-Wright Company in the sum of $2,554,383 and to the Wright-Martin Aircraft Corporation of $4,706,055. In the case of the Dayton-Wright Company, which is within the jurisdiction of the federal courts of Ohio, James N. Linton, of Columbus, has been designated as special attorney to conduct the litigation.

The Attorney General added that the work of investigating the war fraud cases generally would continue as fast as the magnitude of the undertaking would permit. He reiterated the announcement previously made that while the innocent need feel no alarm, the government will exhaust every civil and criminal remedy to reach the guilty.

BAZAAR PLANS OF VETERANS NOW UNDER WAY

POPULARITY CONTEST

Special Committee to be Named for Purpose of Pushing This Contest—A. L. I. to Meet Tonight

Meetings that rival the old time Campmeetings for enthusiasm are the order of things these days for the two local ex-service men's organizations, and preparations are rapidly being completed for the monster "Put and Take" Bazaar to be staged under the joint auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, The American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary.

Last ngiht the "Vets," hastened regular business to get to the business pertaining to the staging of the indoor classic at the armory here during the week of February 6th, and the enthusiasm of the overseas lads knew no bounds as the plans were formulated stage by stage.

This afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce where headquarters for the campaign to be conducted, has been established, the Executive Committees of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will combine their thought and put on the finishing touches to the plans already laid out, and give the movement an added impetus.

H. L. Arnold, the V. F. W. Post Commander, will be unable to attend, but has designated several of his worthies to be present at the meeting, and J. Randall Caton, Post Commander of the Legion will have his general committee on hand at the appointed hour.

The invitation committee will extend written invitations to numerous young ladies of the city to participate in the popularity contest, and request them to stop in at Chamber of Commerce headquarters and receive instructions, a special committee of both organizations will be appointed to promote the Miss Alexandria Popularity Contest and make personal calls on the ladies whom they would like to have enter the fray.

Entries for the baby show will be received at headquarters any time of the day or night, and mothers are requested to get their applications in early. Any Baby, regardless of whether they have relatives in either of the World's War Soldiers organizations, can be entered and compete for the valuable prizes.

Captain Lawrence Gardner of the Alexandria Machine Gun Company will call his committee to meeting tonight at the Armory to discuss plans for participation in the affair, it is planned by the prime moving organizations to have a percentage of the profits from the affair revert to the automatic Gunners company fund, out of thanks for their permitting the use of the armory for the bazaar. The basketball schedule arranged for the week will be carried out in conjunction with the Bazaar and Celebration.

BILL TO STOP 'EASY' DIVORCES

Measure Is Introduced in Virginia House of Delegates

Provides That When Respondent Fails to Appear Court Can Appoint Guardian Ad Litem

"Easy" divorces in Virginia will be a thing of the past if a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Delegate Wilbur C. Hall, of Loudoun, by request, is enacted into law. for the measures provides that where the respondent does not make proper defense, or fails to appear to make defense, the court can appoint a guardian ad litem and defend the suit in the name of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Explaining the purposes of the bill, the preamble to it reads:

"Whereas, the census and vital statistics discloses the fact that the number of divorces increase annually in this State as elsewhere to an alarming extent, and constitutes an evil which is becoming a menace to public and private mortality, and

"Whereas, a cause contributing to such increase is generally believed to lie in the fact that a large proportion of such suits are shown to be uncontested, or if the defendant appears offers no defense, thus rendering it easier for the complainant to present a case, and in many cases givine rise to the susnicion of fraud or collusion which neither the court nor the counsel have the means of

LEGISLATION

House Proceedings

The House of Delegates was called to order at 11:40 A. M. and Rev. G. G. Turner, member from Bedford County, offered the invocation. Communications from the Senate were announced, and Clerk Williams announced that the House Finance Committee had reported bills Nos. 58, 59 and 60, and the Committee on Agriculture and Mining bills Nos. 61 to 67, inclusive.

On call of the calendar House bill No. 6, relative to employment of State convicts, was passed by a vote of 83 to 1.

House bill No. 10, changing the laws of priority liens, was passed by a vote of 80 to 0.

Senate joint resolution, memoralizing the United States Congress to curb the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission on intrastate rates, and another Senate joint resolution memoralizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce freight rates, were concurred in after some debate, as to the advisability of such procedure.

House bill No. 16, authorizing the State Highway Commissoner to sell and convey tolls houses in Frederick County, was ordered to engrossment and third reading, as was also No. 17, amending the charter of the city of Lynchburg.

A long debate featured House bill No. 18, which authorizes the Boards of Supervisors of counties and Councils of cities and towns, or other governing bodies of cities, to make appropriations for memorials to soldiers, sailors and marines who lost their lives in the late war. The bill was finally amended to allow appropriations up to $500 without a petition from a majority of the legal voters of the county, city or town.

Delegate Marvin Smithey, of Brunswick, introduced a bill calling for an election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1922, on which to vote on the question, "Shall there be a convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" Referred to the Courts of Justice Committee.

Adfournment was taken at 1:50 o'clock until 12 o'clock today.

Following adiournment, Frank E. Hering, of South Bend, Ind., addressed the audience on the economic conditions today and the need for old age pensions.

WILL OPPOSE MEASURE FOR JUVENILE JUDGE

Bill Introduced in State Senate of State Legislature

FOR CITIES & COUNTIES

Provides For Such With Population of Less Than 25,000—Oppose Senator ited by Committee.

"Considerable opposition already has developed in this city to which is known as Senate Bill No. 165 of which Mr. Paul in the state senate is the patron, which provides for the appointment of special justices of the peace in cities of less than 25,000 inhabitants and in counties to be known as judges of Juvenile and domestic relations courts; to prescribe their jurisdiction powers duties and compensation and to provide for the maintenance of juvenile and domestic relations courts in such cities and counties.

It is expected that representatives of the city and chamber of commerce will petition the senator from this district and also the delegate representing this city and Arlington county to oppose the proposition.

In a discussion today among a number of business men it was pointed out that they already have a large number of court officials and an additional number would be more of a burden on the taxpayers.

The bill provides that the judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court shall hold office for six years and that the compensation shall be fees prescribed by law for justices of the peace or in lieu thereof he shall receive out of the city treasury of the city or county for which he is appointed of which such county may prescribe.

His duties shall include the disposition custody or control of delinquent, dependent, neglected and mentally defective children. The duty of the judge among other things will be the prosecution and punishment of persons, male or females, who knowingly contribute in any way to the disruption or martial relations or of a house.

FARM CONGRESS PLAN OF PRICE CONTROL FAILS

Secretary Wallace Says Proposal is Impractical and Dangerous

COMMITTEE REJECTS

Agricultural Bloc Indorsed by Conference—Administration is Praised in Committee Report.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The panacea of price-fixing on agricultural products or a guarantee of minimum return to the producer was thrown out of the medicine chest of the National Agricultural Conference yesterday when the Secretary of Agriculture, Henry C. Wallace, said such a remedy was impractical and dangerous.

Secretary Wallace made this statement at a talk with newspaper correspondents just before the adjournment of the afternoon session. It was presumed that he spoke for the Administration, and since no scheme of price guarantee could be made effective without the approval of the Administration and Congress, the attitude of Secretary Wallace was construed as ending such agitation as exists in the conference for this form of relief.

The Committee on Marketing earlier in the day rejected a price-guarantee scheme, and substiuted a proposal that Congress be petitioned to consider means to bring the purchasing power of the "farmer's dollar" to a parity with the purchasing power of the dollar of other industries.

Outside of the views of Secretary Wallace, which are given more in detail below, yesterday's session of the agricultural conference was one of oratory and adoption of committee reports. There were slight outcroppings of dissent here and there, but the conference machinery was well oiled and effective.

For instance, one truly rural insurgent offered a minor amendment to a committee report and demanded a standing vote, observing: "I just want to see how many real farmers are here."

Chairman Anderson announced 25 had risen in the affirmative and 57 in the negative. About two-thirds of the delegates didn't exhibit energy enough to vote either way.

Committe reports already adopted—with more to come—carried long preambles and resolving clauses calling upon Congress and the Administration to do many things.

Promised remedies for the industrial situation which were approved range from a demand for more statistics on livestock to the insistence that Congress devise a method for extending credits to foreign purchasers, so they may buy American farm products and put life into our exports figures.

As a rule, the reports were adopted with little discussion and by almost unanimous vote. William Tyler Page of Maryland, clerk of the House of Representatives, was drafted by Chairman Anderson to read the long reports, and his trained voice reached and satisfied all delegates.

Mrs. J. C. Ketcham, of Michigan, a woman member of the committee on farm population and farm home, flattered the more men of the conference so that her report received the loudest chorus of "ayes" of any committee resolution.

When called to the platform by the hairman, Mrs. Ketcham rather diffidently said: "It is rather embarrassing to face an audience of so many good-looking men." (Laughter and looks of self-consciousness on the part of the males, who smoothed down their hair, adjusted neckties and otherwise posed as though being photographed.)

"Every word in this committee report was given careful consideration by the 11 men and 11 women composing the committee. We think there is not a word that shouldn't be approved, and I am sure no intelligent set of men would fail to adopt such a report."

And there the discussion ended and the report went through with a whoop.

Still Is Captured

Man and Woman Held For Action of Grand Jury

A small still with a capacity of about ten or twelve gallons, four gallons of what the police claim is corn liquor and a quantity of mash were captured in a raid made yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Taylor Finch, on North St. Asaph street. The raid was made by Policemen Durrer, Magner, and Lawrence Padgett. The police also took in custody Mrs. Finch and Ernest Idison. Mrs. Finch denied ownership of the still and claimed it was the property of Idison. Idison told the court he did not own the still and that he simply roomed at the place and yesterday had requested the police to aid him to get his trunk from the place. Justice Duvall held both for the action of the grand jury and their bond was fixed at $500 each. Mrs. Finch was represented by Attorney W. S. Snow.

CAREFUL INSPECTION

FEDERAL MEAT INSPECTION PROTECTS EVERY CONSUMER

Every day as the millions of consumers over the country sit down to their breakfast, dinner, or supper, they receive a direct benefit from the work of the large force of Govern ment inspectors who see to it that all the meat products leave the packing plants without any taint of disease clinging to them. These inspectors are on duty in 839 packing and meat preparing plants, and perform a service that in the aggregate is enormous, the total number of animals examined during the last year both before and after slaughter, totaling more than 62,000,000. This was 4.7 per cent less than the average for the 14 years since the work of Federal meat inspection of the United States Department of Agriculture was start ed.

The total number of animals or car casses condemned as unfit for food was 191,533 and the number of parts of carcasses 671,504. In addition the carcasses of 62,886 animals found dead or dying were disposed of in other ways than for food. A list of 50 diseases and conditions from actinomycosis to tuberculosis were responsible for these big losses. Tuberculosis heads the list in numbers, with a toll of 64,830 swine, 472,465 parts of hog carcasses, 33,328 cattle, and 51,182 parts of cattle carcasses. Hog cholera and pneumonia were responsible for a large number of swine condemnations, and the latter also caused the loss for food of a lot of beef. Pneumonia seems also to be one of the worst enemies of sheep that are shipped to market. In numbers of carcasses and parts condemn. ed swine suffer the most, cattle come next, then sheep, calves and goats in the order named. In addition to the above inspections, all meats and products were reinspected when shipped from the plants to the trade or consumers.

While the Federal meat inspectors are looking out for disabled animals in the pens and on the killing floors at the big central markets, other department men are exerting themselves to find ways and means for reducing the loss from disease, and from year to year the toll become less Some day in the future we may expect to find some of the worst of these plagues wiped off the list, and that will mean more food for an increasing population.

Trade Conditions For 1922

A comparison of the conditions under which the United States entered the year 1922 with those of the corresponding year of the preceding century gives us renewed confidence, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, in the industrial and commercial future of our country. The population which in 1822 was less than 10,000,000 is now 107,000,000, or more than ten times that of a century ago, while the population of the world as a whole has increased but about 150 per cent. meantime. Our international commerce even in the present moment of depression is 60 times as much as that of a century ago, having grown from $109,000,000 in 1821 to nearly or quite $7,000,000,000 in 1921, while international commerce of the world in 1921 may possibly total 40 times that of a century ago when it stood at $1,659,000,000.

This growth with us has been largely due to increased facilities of transportation. In 1821 our great Mississippi Valley with its wonderful producing possibilities had but about 2,000,000 people, and their only method of sending their products to tidewater was by the rivers and the Great Lakes, for even the Erie Canal was not yet finished at that date and steam railways for commercial service were then a thing unknown in any part of the world. Of the 750,000 miles of railway built in all the world since 1821, over one-third was constructed in the United States, chiefly to connect the great interior with the ocean frontages, and the "Middle West" which had then 2,000,000 population has now 50,000,000 and is not only the world's biggest producer of grain and meats but is turning out over one-third of the manufactures of the manufactures of the country. The The manufactures of the whole world in 1820 are estimated by Mulhall at $4,250,000,000 while our census of 1920 puts the value of those of the United States alone at $62,000,000,000 or nearly 15 times that of the whole world a century earlier. With this tremendous growth in our manufacturing industries our exports of domestice manufactures exclusive of foodstuffs have grown from less than $8,000,000 in 1821 to over $2,000,000,000 in 1921, or 250 times as much in the "lean" year just ended as in the corresponding year of the preceding century. With this increase in industrial, commercial and business activity has come a corresponding advance in the financial requirements and supplies, and the total "money in circulation" which was officially reported at $67,100,000 in 1820 is officially stated at $5,676,711,000 on December 1,1921. Meantime the centers of industry and business have grown amazingly, the population of New York having increased from 130,000 in 1822 to over 6,000,000 in 1922, Philadelphia from 108,000 to nearly 2,000,000, and Chicago from "a hamlet of log houses inhabited by less than 100 people" in 1830 to aproximately 3,000,000 in 1922.

Not all of this growth in the industries and prosperity of the country has come from a mere increase in population, for our area has doubled meantime, the total area of the United States having grown from 1,792,000 square miles in 1821 to 3,620,000 square miles, including Alaska, at the present time. Our additions of territory since 1822 consist of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and the entire Pacific frontage, and thus includes enormous additions to the agricultural and mineral wealth of the country,

Thus the year 1922 finds the United States the world's chief agricultural, manufacturing, commercial and financial nation. The possibilities of a further expansion in all these lines are found in the fact that with our population, exclusive of Alaska, is still only 36 per square mile or less than one-tenth that of certain of the most prosperous of our European neighbors.

CROP VALUE PER ACRE DROPS 60 PER CENT IN TWO YEARS.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The average value per acre of 10 crops constituting nine-tenths of all crop production dropped from $35.76 to $14.48, or 60 per cent, during the two years 1919-21, announced the United States Department of Agriculture today. This decline is unparalleled within the scope of records of the department dating back to 1866.

During the years immediately following the Civil War the general trend of the average was downward, dropping from about $14 or $15 per acre to less than $8 by 1896, the lowest point in the industrial depression of that time. An advance then set in and by 1913 the average value per acre was $16.49. An advance year there was a slight decline to $16.44 caused by the low price of cotton, but in 1916, the year before the United States entered the World War, the average advanced to $22.58, or $6.14 in two years.

By far the greatest gain in one year in average value per acre for 10 crops was $10.69 from 1916 to 1917, the average for the latter year being $33.25. The average for 1918 was $33.73. The average continued to rise and in 1919 reached the peak of $35.76. A decline then set in, the average dropping $21.28 per acre, or 60 per cent, in the two years that followed.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

HOME BEAUTIFUL

By DOROTHY ETHEL WALSH.

Flower Chairs Make a Happy Addition to Children's Rooms.

In my last article we talked of the necessity of giving the children of the family happy surroundings. I mentioned the fact that there were many little touches that could be given their rooms, guaranteed to make them cheerful.

To-day let me tell you of a "home made" chair a clever woman I know designed and had executed. The artist has sketched it for you.

The seat and four sides of it are solid pieces of wood painted a terra cotta in imitation of a flower pot. The back is designed to simulate flowers growing from the pot and is cut out of one piece of wood on the jig saw. The flowers are painted bright colors to harmonize with the room's decorations.

You cannot imagine how delighted the children of the household were when they first saw their flower chairs. Plain blue walls ("just the color of the sky," as Junior says), curtains of crash with a simple chintz border and a putty colored rug allowed the "potted plants" to dominate, and thus flood the room with their happiness.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Miss Caroline Wattles is spending the week end in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Bannon Cooper have moved into their home at Braddock Heights after spending the early part of the winter with Mrs. Allie Smith, in Rosemont.

Miss Anna Whedbee who was operated on Monday at the Alexandria Hospital for tnosilitis by Dr. Young, has returned to her home and is during nicely.

At the stockholders' meeting of the J. W. Jackson's Holding Association held Wednesday evening, officers of the association were elected and other business was transacted. The association is now on a good financial basis and considerable new stock was sold.

Mr. John Hepburn, of Cameron street, underwent an operation at the Alexandria Hospital yesterday by Dr. S. B. Moore. He is reported as doing nicely.

Miss Hilda Schneider left today for Lexington to attend the winter hops at Virginia Military Institute.

Xaverian School Notes

The prize medal contest for the best essay on Woodrow Wilson, donated by William Gallery, of Washington, D. C., has been awarded to Louis Power at the Xaverian Bros. School. The winner is in the preparatory department. His essay received the highest praise from the judges of the contest who were Mr. and Mrs. Armand Jardon, of Washington, and Mr. Joseph Byrne, of this city.

Rev. Brother Francis will lecture to the students on the first Friday of February. His subject will be, "The Boy Scout."

Mrs. William Maloney of Pittsburg, a friend of the faculty who is much interested in the regents' examinations paid the school a visit last week.

Rev. Brother Albens and his basketball team of Leonardtown, Md., were entertained at the school last Monday at a dinner given by several friends of the school.

Orioles Win Another Game

Last night in Liberty Hall in Washington the Virginia Orioles captured another game making it 15 wins out of 16 starts by defeating the Liberty A. C., 40 to 12

Lyons and Noland starred for the winners, the former caging 10 field goals, while the latter found the loop for 5 baskets.

OH, FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Alexandria And It's 10 Great Needs As Seen By the Searchlight of The Salvation Army

One—A more willing spirit to help the other fellow.

Two—A little less red tape when helping him with little groceries, coal or wood.

Three—A spirit of give him or her a chance to live. We have ours.

Four—To remember work is hard to get and that all men are not tramps.

Five—To remember, we cant sit in our office or homes and say there are no poor in Alexandria.

Six—To remember to find this out we must become a 1922 investigator, not a 1776 one.

Seven—To remember that there are poor in Alexandria and that they need our help.

Eight—To remember that there are men, women and children and that they feel the cold and get hungry.

Nine—To remember that they live in Alexandria, not in Europe.

Nine—To remember that they are our neighbors and the Lord says to love our neighbor as ourself

The Salvation Army is the mouth piece of the poor and need speaking to you, asking you for help for them.

Will you help us?

Thank you, Capt. J. F. McIntyre. PHONE 519.

Basketball Tonight

The A. H. S. are booked tonight to play at the Armory against one of Washington's best basket ball teams, the Bliss Electrical School. This team is composed of some of the best goal tossers in the District and a hard fought game is expected.

The Bliss played in this city several weeks ago and were defeated by the close score of 22 to 30.

Saturday night the A. L. I., will entertain the Bolling Field, a fast soldier team, who has been traveling at a fast clip this season around Washington. The team will be down early and a large crowd is expected. The hall will be well heated.

The A. L. I., will introduce Sunday basketball in Alexandria this Sunday, when the soldiers will line up against their old rivals, the Quantico Marines. The Marines have always had a great team and a hot struggle is expecetd in Sunday's engagement. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Quito is the only city in the world located on the exact line of the equator. At Quito the sun rises and sets at 6 o'clock all the year round.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Charles B. Swan Gives His Views In Detail

Mr. Swan Goes Thoroughly Into the Matter of Betterments Needed —Protests Against Open Sewers

Charles B. Swan, member of the firm of Swan Brothers, tells the Gazette that he realizes the needs of the city and that to accomplish what should be accomplished, he recognizes that all must pull in unison. His statement in detail is:—

"I regret this is the first opportunity I have had to give you my views relative to the important things to be accomplished in order to make Alexandria a bigger, better and greater city.

"In the first place I heartily approve of all those things as outlined and advocated by the Gazette, as well as many of our reptuable citizens, and I think there are other necessary improvements which should be made in due time in order to make Alexandria a better place to live in. I will only mention a few which in my judgment are absolutely essential of accomplishment in order to have a greater and better city.

"First of all the very best educational facilities possible with efficient well paid teachers.

"Second we need hundreds of new, small modern houses both for sale and to rent for the man of moderate circumstances as there are none available at this time.

"Third, good streets and improved pavements are an asset to any city. Some of the pavements in Alexandria are a disgrace to the city and should be improved immediately.

"Fourth, Cameron and Prince streets should be paved to relieve traffic on King street.

Fifth, all over-heated telephone and telegraph wires should be removed as soon as possible and put under ground as they are not only unsightly but are a great detriment to our firemen in fighting fires.

"Sixth, the Ferry across the Potomac to Maryland is of the utmost importance to the business interests of Alexandria and I hope ways and means will be devised whereby this communication with our neighbors across the River may be realized.

"Seventh, I think the City Council should help to bring new factories to our city by passing an ordinance giving them free taxes for a number of years.

"Eighth, we should do all in our power to see that the new road to Fairfax is speedily constructed as a good road to and from this fast growing section would prove an untold benefit to all Alexandria merchants.

"Ninth, the open sewers which run down King street Road and Hooff's Run and through Braddock and Rosemont should be put under ground as they are both breeding places for thousands of mosquitoes which spread the most dangerous disease germs, to say nothing of the disagreeable odor arising from these sewers in hot weather.

"Tenth, last but not least by any means, a modern equipped Y. M. C. A. Building with our efficient Secretary and those good women who are giving their time, talent and energy at the present time, is I think one of the most important matters before the people of Alexandria at present. Think what it means to the young men of Alexandria to have a Y. M. C. A. Building fully equipped with proper educational facilities, such as night schools, reading rooms, gymnasiums, swimming pools, etc., all these supervised over by those interested in the moral and physical development of Alexandria's younger generation.

"In conclusion I fully realize to do all these things will require time, money, work, energy and patience, but they can be done by the proper cooperation of all those interested in a bigger and greater Alexandria, so let's all pull together."

Crystals Trimmed

Last night in the Armory Hall the Crystal A. C. was defeated by the fast Yosemite A. C., in a fast game, by the score of 22 to 20. Both teams played well, Yosemite winning by two foul shots in the last two minutes of play.

"Goodles" Owens, star forward for Crystal, received a very bad cut over the eye in the second quarter, leaving the game at the half. Owen's shooting was the feature of the game, getting five baskets from the floor and five from the fifteen-foot line. Simonds played best for the winners.

The lineup:

Crystals	Posi.	Yosemite
	Right Forward
Owens		Simonds
	Left Forward
Kersey		Modoskey
	Center
Bayliss		Stewart
	Right Guard
Cornell		Eslin
	Left Guard
Snellings		Zahn

Substitutions: Hewitt for Owens. Field goals: Owens 5, Snellings 1, Kersey 1, Simonds 4, Modoskey 4, Stewart 3. Foul shots: Owens 5 out of 5; Bayliss 1 out of one.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerine and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft clear rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

NEW TAX RESOLUTIONS

Financial conditions and heavy taxes have directed such attention to the proposed twentieth amendment to the Federal Constitution. It affects all taxpayers without regard to political affiliations.

Three resolutions providing for an amendment to permit Federal taxation of State and Municipal bonds have been introduced and referred to Congressional committees.

They are all in harmony with the recommendation of President Harding's message to Congress:

"I think our tax problems, the tendency of wealth to seek non-taxable investments and the menacing increase of public debt, Federal, State and Municipal,—all justify a proposal to change the Constitution so as to end the issue of nontaxable bonds."

The last resolution introduced, that by Representative W. R. Green, of Iowa, is received with favor because it prohibits any discrimination between Federal and State securities. The Ways and Means Committee of the House has it under consideration It would add as the amendment the following:

"That from and after the adoption of this amendment as part of the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution shall apply to and include income deried from securities thereafter issued or created by any State or political subdivision there of or any dependency of the United States; but taxes on incomes derived from such securities must be laid without discrimination in favor of in come derived from other securities of the same term and general class issued or created after the adoption of this amendment as part of the Constitution."

LAST DAY OF HUNTING SEASON

January 31 is the last day on which wild ducks and geese, coots, gallinules, and Wilson snipe or jacksnipe may be hunted anywhere in the United States under the Federal law which prescribes seasons on migratory game birds. This law, which is administered by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, provides, however, that the carcasses of birds killed during the open season may be possessed for an additional period of 10 days following the end of the season if State or local laws do not prohibit it. The procesion of carcasses of wild ducks, geese, and other migratory game birds in cold storage plants after February 10 renders the owners subject to prosecution in the Federal courts.

POKER IN THE CURRICULUM

Our respected contemporary, the Washington Herald, editorializes on the national game of poker, in a recent issue. It announces that the Columbia University has included the game in its list of student subjects. We doubt the authenticity of this information, and were that all, would refrain from criticism. But when the Herald quotes the lucubrations of the Baltimore Sun in its editorial, and thus apparently lends them its own dignified approval, we must enter a protest.

"Poker," says the Sun, "is an exercise for the highbrow, not for the lowbrow. To excel in the game requires a rare combination of natural genius, acquired science, self-control, and a temperament that is born, not made." We differ! Poker requires an ox-like temperament, to give the natural, but necessary bovine expression to the countenance, a nerve that has all the recklessness of stupidity, and a sense of honor blunted to everything except losses incurred in the game itself. These are, indeed, debts of honor that must be paid while the tradesman and others of that lowbrowed ilk, go unpaid.

The Sun goes on with its rays festering carrion on a dunghill, and says:

"Universities being instituted for the development of the brain, the study of the poker mind is obviously of the highest importance, because its peculiarities suggest qualities that might be applied with advantage to more serious business. In point of fact, the Napoleons of poker are often the Napoleons of finance and of constructive industry, and possibly the investigations at Columbia may demonstrate that such men as John D. Rockefeller and Henry Ford would have been poker players of the first class if they had given attention to the game. It would be interesting if they would submit to tests on this subject in the psychological laboratory of Columbia.

"Much time has been frittered away in the universities in culture studies, in grubbing around in the dead ashes of the classics, in examination of social philosophies, human historical experience and economic theories. All this evidently has been so much waste motion. The poker mind is the highest study of mankind. It acts by the lightning of intuition, by its instant mastery of the situation. It sees in a moment what the philosopher takes months to grind out, sweating patiently by his midnight lamp. Could Socrates have held a winning hand at poker? We are afraid if poker had been in vogue in his day he would have had to pawn Xantippe if he had sat in for a single evening with the Athenian sports. We have a notion that he could have been beaten by the most ordinary professor of psychology. Julius Caesar, Hannibal and other great belligerents would probably have proved themselves experts, and men who do things are the kind of men that colleges should encourage. Psychology has discovered a way to make colleges really useful as well as ornamental."

Fortunately, we do not have to delve into the mysteries of psychology to confute these absurd fallacies. History is an irrefutable argument against them. Napoleon, while fond of chess, his only game, was a notoriously bad player. In our own country, the good poker-players, the professionals, if you please, are good at nothing else, and finally wind up in the gutter or worse! The good chess-players, from Paul Morphy down, have been semi-idiots in everything else. As for amateurs, no man of our own day ever succeeded at poker who had a record for any other achievement. Poker, forsooth! We would rather trust our money to a man who drank than to a gambler! The drunkard is his own worst enemy, the gambler is the enemy of every man.

Of course the Sun will say its editorial was in jest! But there is just enough of plausibility in its humor to make it dangerous to the young man who plays poker as a pastime.

Wherefore we have written, half in jest ourselves, and half in earnest. Let not the young man who may read the Sun's flippant argumentation be beguiled with an ambition to become a good poker-player! He is skating on thin ice, and it will break with him sooner or later. Let him improve his mind and his time in almost any other direction. Poker-playing for money is gambling, and any poker-player will tell you that without the incentive to win money the game is as stale and flat as champagne without its fizz. Pardon the simile—but that's what they say! Recreation is necessary to any human being, and our advice is to play ball, play golf, or go to the movies! But leave poker alone!

Scrap The Warship

Scrap War Ships?
Lord help us that we may
Wreck every warlike craft
Despised and used today.

Scrap War Ships?
Gun, mortar, shot and shell,
Ban deadly poison gas—
Death fumes from fires of Hell.

Scrap War Ships?
Lord help us realize
The ruin war has wrought!
Lord open now our eyes.

Scrap War Ships?

Let love for one another,
The thoughts of hate deface.

Scrap War Ships?
Let fellowship abound;
Plan, work and walk together
On holier, higher ground.

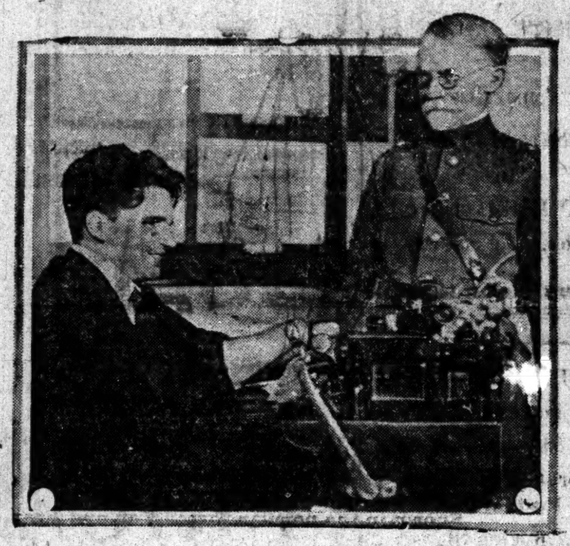
Wants Soulmate to Share Fortune

Baby Margaret Garland — Lillian Conrad — Mrs. Charles Garland — Charles Garland

For two years Charles Garland refused to accept $1,600,000 left by his father, on the grounds that he had not earned it. He lived on a farm with his wife and baby. Now he has suddenly claimed the inheritance, at the same time amazing his wife by the proposal that Lillian Conrad, art student share their home and fortune.

Handless and Blind Veteran Works Typewriter



"Where there's a will there's a way," says Carl Bronner, a disabled veteran of the late war, who is minus both his hands and the sight of both eyes; yet, despite this great handicap, Bronner can work a typewriter. He is shown here demonstrating his ability to General Sawyer, the President's physician. Bronner was a seaman, stationed in Italian waters, during the war and is now at the Evergreen Hospital for the Blind, in Baltimore, Md. He is attending the conference on the rehabilitation of disabled soldiers being held at the Veterans' Bureau at Washington.

RICHMOND TO COAST ROAD

Newport News, Va., Jan. 28.—All cities and many of the counties of Eastern Virginia are united in a fight to get a strip of road 37 miles long, and in importance state wide, built in the next two years, and after formal appearance of representatives before the state highway commission, that commission has placed upon it the stamp of approval.

This strip of road lies between a point 15 miles south of Richmond and another point two miles north of Williamsburg. When it is paved, this "missing link," the capital will be connected to the coast by hard high way.

The Hampton Roads Gloucester Richmond Highway Association composed of representative business men of Tidewater cities and Richmond, and farmers of the to be traversed counties, is making the fight, contending that this completed road will bring tourists from all parts of the country to Tidewater Virginia's gold mine of historical points.

"Such a road will bring in tourists from the North through Alexandria and Fredericksburg; from the West through Clifton Forge, through Staunton or through Roanoke," said Guy P. Murray, of this city, president of the highway association. "Wherever they stop, they'll spend. I believe than in one year the tourists will bring in enough money to pay for that strip of road."

The association will build this road within two years, said President Murray yesterday.

If the bond issue providing 6,000,000 this year and the same amount next year, is passed, the association will count on the commission to use enough of it to construct the road immediately. Commissioner George P. Coleman has pledged his word that if the bond issue succeeds, the missing link will be paved in that time.

Should the bond issue fail, the association will insist upon enough of the funds to be allocated regularly this year and next, being spent to complete the "state asset."

Failing in that, the association will borrow from the people of the cities and the counties in the State enough money to pave half of the road calling on federal aid for the remainder. The people will have to pay but the interest on the loan, the state finally paying back the principal.

"We are going to complete the road," said the president. "I can't say how, just now; but we believe Virginia needs it, and we believe she'll have it."

The Gazette's Book Shelf

THE RAGGED EDGE
By Harold McGrath.
Doubleday, Page and Company

The style of the book is above the average and it is interesting to see what Mr. McGrath can do with hackneyed plot and characters. They are all old friends in the story—the beautiful and guileless heroine born in the South Seas; the hero who appears to be a villian, though an engaging one; the stern father; the beachcomber; the kindly doctor—surely they must have long ago grown weary in their rounds. Appearing in one or two novels every year is hard work for even the most accomodating characters, so we think the author must have enticed them into taking on just one more job by the promise of new dresses and new traits. If so he kept his promise nobly. The Stern Parent does not relent at the last moment; the beachcomber is not guilty of a single kind act; the hero really and truly steals the money—but why go on?

The story is distinctly readable and unquestionably the best the author has given his public for some time.

LILIOM
By Franz Molnar
Boni and Liveright

This is "Liliom" without the artistry of Joseph Schildkraut and Eva La Gallienne; which is very much like Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Yet the reading public wanted the text of the play and will be richer in mind for having read it.

While the words are simple, with the stark simplicity of Eugene O'Neil, the mind hurries on past them to the spirit of the play and grasps its essential truths. Molnar alone could have given this view of the soul of Liliom or of Julie who loved him—who denied her love to Liliom living but confessed it to Liliom dead.

There are scenes so moving that one forgets the mechanism of the play; scenes so horrid they bring a shudder of disgust; scenes as tender as Divine mercy. The characters are strongly contradictory; Liliom, the roughneck, who beats his wife because she cries, but snatches a star from Heaven to bring as a gift to their child; Julie who denies her love for Liliom because he strikes her but confesses to Louise, "It is possible that someone may beat you and beat you, and not hurt you at all."

Poor struggling, stubborn Liliom, Molnar has given him neither outward nor inward grace and yet he arouses infinite pity. It is comforting to know that the eye of the Heavenly Judge can look through the rugged exterior and see the groping soul beneath.

LIVE NEWS from ROSEMONT DEL RAY BRADDOCK MT. IDA ST. ELMO.

Mrs. John B. Abraham, of Rucker Place, Rosemont, entertained delightfully at a "luncheon" on Wednesday. The guests from Washington were Mrs. Lindsey, Mrs. Crossman, Mrs. L. B. Gray and Mrs. Samuel Waite, with Mrs. D. C. Chambers, from Mt. Ida.

The "guild" meeting on Monday afternoon was largely attended and the ladies accomplished a great amount of work which was the making of vestments for the children's choir, recently organized under direction of Mrs. Fannie Drischler. A social hour with dainty refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. O. H. Kirk, concluded the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Holden, of Rosemont, are spending the week end in Philadelphia.

Miss Flora Manning has returned to her home at "Endora Farms" near Leesburg, after a few days visit in Rosemont, as guests of Mrs. George Taylor.

Miss Margaret McCandless from Philadelphia, is the guest of Mrs. Robert A. Zachary, in Braddock.

Miss Dorothy Carpenter, from Fredericksburg Normal spent last week end at home in Del Ray.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, of Raymond Avenue, St. Elmo, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cockrell, in Alexandria.

Mrs. Cecil Brookes and two small sons, of Del Ray, are spending the week end in Richmond, with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Garber.

Miss Rosella Burke, of Rosemont, and Miss Josephine Ramage were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Carter, last week at the University of Virginia.

Little Edward Fairfax is slowly improving at the Alexandria Hospital where he was taken when he sustained a double fracture of the ankle bone while at play about two weeks ago.

Don't forget the "bake sale" which the ladies of the Methodist missionary society will hold tomorrow morning in Rowzie's store, Hume Avenue, St. Elmo. Go and get your cakes, and rolls for Sunday.

The George Mason High School girls basket ball team will play the Virginia Preps, of Alexandria, at 6:45 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday night, in Armory Hall, Alexandria.

The Sunday services at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Braddock Heights, will be Sunday School at 10 and preaching service at 11 in the morning.

Mr. Edward Burke, of Boston, is spending the week end in the home of his brother, Mr. Harry R. Burke, in Rosemont.

Sunday services at Del Ray M. E. Church will be the Sunday School at 10:00 a. m., with preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 in the evening. Epworth League, lead by Miss Naomi Kidwell will begin at 6:45 p. m. The pastor, Rev. J. F. Wood will deliver the evening sermon, and in the morning at 11 o'clock the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Pak Chue Chan of the Chinese Christian Center, Washington, D. C., who delivered a lecture in this church last summer and so delighted his audience that all who heard him then will want to hear him again on Sunday, and all who did not have this opportunity.

The J. Glasman grocery store in Del Ray has recently changed hands and is now being operated by the Mt. Vernon Grocery Company, with D. Tauber manager.

Mr. Vivian Wright has just received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Navy, and is at home in Del Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mairnoff announce the birth of a son on the 13th instant, at their home on Mt. Vernon Avenue, Braddock.

Mrs. R. A. Wilkinson entertained the Tuesday Evening Club this week in her home on Belefont Avenue, Del Ray. The evening was most enjoyably spent, and Mrs. Douglas Folk, of Richmond, was present for the occasion.

In the Baptist Church at Del Ray, the usual Sunday services will be held as follows: Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., preaching by the pastor, Rev. R. A. McKay, at 11 in the morning and 7:45 o'clock in the evening. Miss Edna McCauley will lead the B. Y. P. U., at 6:45 Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. Glasman, of Del Ray, is making good progress towards recovery from the operation which she underwent about two weeks ago in Providence Hospital, and hopes soon to be able to leave that institution.

Mrs. R. L. Tate and Mrs. John Gary entertained at a very delightful little "luncheon" on Wednesday, in their home on Mt. Vernon Avenue, Del Ray. Mrs. Douglas L. Folk, of Richmond, was the guest of honor, the other guests were Mrs. M. A. Rollins, Mrs. R. A. Wilkinson, Mrs. Mary E. Varney, Mrs. Walter U. Varney and Mrs. A. J. Nalls. During her stay in Del Ray, Mrs. Folk was the guest of Mrs. Tate.

Fifteen members of the Baptist "ladies aid" of Del Ray, were present at the meeting in St. Elmo, yesterday afternoon. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. George W. Zachary; routine business and plans for an oyster supper to be held next month occupied the time. After the business meeting the hostess, Mrs. Charles L. Adams served dainty refreshments before adjournment.

Attention of all residents of the town of Potomac is especially directed to the following reprint:

The Executive Order of February 14, 1912, as subsequently amended, permitting employees in the executive civil service permanently residing in certain incorporated municipalities adjacent to the District of Columbia to become candidates for or hold municipal office therein, is hereby further amended so as to include the incorporated municipality of Potomac, Virginia, among those named in the order. The first paragraph of the order of February 14, 1912, as amended, will read as follows:

Employees of the executive civil service permanently residing in the following incorporated municipalities adjacent to the District of Columbia will not be prohibited from becoming candidates for or holding municipal office in such corporations:

Employees of the executive civil service permanently residing in the following incorporated municipalities adjacent to the District of Columbia will not be prohibited from becoming candidates for or holding municipal office in such corporations:

In Maryland—Takoma Park, Kensington, Garrett Park, Chevy Chase, Glen Echo, Hyattsville, Mount Rainier, Somerset, North Beach, Capitol Heights, Laurel, Riverdale,

In Virginia—Falls Church, Vienna, Herndon, Potomac.

This order is recommended by the Civil Service Commission for the reason that the same conditions exist in Potomac, Virginia, as in the other municipalities named in the original order and its amendments.

TO ASSIST UNEMPLOYED

The Department of Commerce made public today a partial list of funds authorized or raised by various cities throughout the country to relieve distress caused by present unemployment. These do not include municipal appropriations for immediate public works, as recommended by the President's Conference on Unemployment which run far up into the millions.

New Haven, Conn., is raising a community chest of $500,000, which includes an item of $50,000 for an emergency fund for the unemployed. In Hartford, Conn., small sums are advanced to unemployed persons on their notes in favor of the city for repayment. This keeps borrowers from being put on the pauper list and jobless workers retain their self respect.

In Detroit $2,000,000 has been appropriated to meet the unemployment situation.

Indianapolis has had an audit of city funds, and with $163,000 available, has commenced work on parks and streets, with a constantly increasing pay roll of deserving men which now aggregates 1,200. In addition $120,000 was raised in four hours for the relief of the unemployed.

Cleveland's community chest organizations raised its quota of $3,500,000 in one week and it reports that enough more will be forthcoming to prevent extensive suffering in the present emergency. In Cincinnati the City Council has appropriated $10,000 for the Mayor's unemployment committee.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will lend up to $100 to any unemployed man of reputable character, and accept his note for 90 days at reasonable interest charged to make up for any loss which may occur through failure to pay. In Lima, Ohio, when able bodied persons apply for relief, they are required to perform labor in the service department and receive the necessaries of life in return for work done.

The City Council of Racine, Wis., has turned over $50,000 from its general fund to the central association for the needy, sick and unemployed. Applicants sign notes and are expected to repay when they get a job.

Mr. Hughes' speech today went as far as it was possible to go, if the statement of Baron Shidehara for Japan was to be accepted as having been made in good faith—and of that the American delegation left no doubt yesterday. No attempt was made by Mr. Hughes to gloss over the belief of the American Government, stated in the past, that Japan's course was seriously in violation of the promise made when the Allied powers and the United States sent troops into Russia to rescue the Szecho-Slovak forces.

Recalling the position taken by this Government in 1918, when the Allied and American troops went in that Russia's political sovereignty was not to be disturbed, nor her internal affairs, an that there was to be no impairment of her territorial integrity. Mr. Hughes proceeded to read the Japanese promise of the same character made on August 2, 1918. Then Mr. Hughes told how the American troops were withdrawn in the spring of 1920 and how the failure of the Japanese to withdraw led to "an extended diplomatic correspondence" with Japan.

Richmond—A joint special committee to consider plans for presenting a proposition for the purchase of the Manassas battlefields to be transformed into a national park, which was named at the recent meeting of the Virginia Sons of Confederate Veterans, in Charlottesville, has been called to meet for organization and action at Murphy's Hotel tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

MERITED JUSTICE

A white man whose savage heart had induced him to adorn his person with an Indian dress, was shot down near Daniel's Inn, 11 miles from this place, by Dr. Turteloit, while attempting to make his escape from the guard. He was taken prisoner a short distance this side of Buffalo and was one among a party of Indians who had just plundered and set Hodge's brick house on fire. He was known to be a prominent leader among the Indians, stimulating them to the commission of the most wanton and cruel barbarities. There is but one wrong attending this transaction, that is ever taking him prisoner.

VIRGINIA NEWS PARAGRAPHED

Petersburg — The eleven professional strike breakers brought here Saturday by the Virginia Railway and Power Company to resume the Richmond-Petersburg interurban service have been discharged, according to announcement made today by J. F. Pond, local superintendent. But one of the men worked since coming here, Superintendent Pond said today, and that on the local lines taking the place of an operative who was transferred to the interurban run.

Staunton—As result of district meetings in Augusta today, Harry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, is assured fifteen of the county's seventeen votes on the floor of the Tenth Congressional District Convention here February 14, when a candidate will be nominated to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry D. Flood.

Lynchburg—West End Methodist Church has adopted a resolution urging all church members who refuse to support the State and national prohibition laws to withdraw from the church. The resolution, offered by the pastor, Rev. B. B. Bland, was voted for by 277 members, no objecton being offered to it in a congregational meeting.

Norfolk—Increased wind velocity continues to hamper the coast guard cutter Manning in her fight to get the half sunken schooner Blanche C. Pendleton from Capt Hatteras to Hampton Roads. The night radio report of the cutter showed that only slight progress has been made toward this port, as the northeasterly gale had freshened and the sea was rougher than it had been in the afternoon. No message from the Manning had been received this morning.

Norfolk—Following two hours of heated discussion, pro and con, the City Council yesterday afternoon placed on first reading an ordinance embodying the recommendations for the annexation of a considerable portion of Tanner's Creek District of Norfolk County to the city of Norfolk.

Charlottesville—Carter M. Braxton, of Jacksonville, Fla., and George D. Gibson, of Norfolk, have been selected to represent the University of Virginia in an intercollegiate debate with Cornell University, to be held the latter part of February at the University of Pennsylvania, the subject of which has not been announced. Try-outs for the other three debates with West Virginia, Tulane and the University of Georgia will be held in the near future.

Richmond, Virginia.—Recommendations of the vestry for a suitable parish house for St. Paul's Episcopal Church and preliminary plans for the erection of a two-story building at an approximate cost of $125,000 on the vacant lot belonging to the church at Ninth and Grace Streets, were adopted unanimously at the annual meeting of the congregation held in the Sunday school room last night.

Wytheville—A wildcat or bay lynx, weighing nineteen pounds, and lean and lank ,was caught on Walker's Mountain, near here, by Fred C. Main, Friday.

Lynchburg—At a meeting of local business men at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday, A. L. Noel and J. H. Carpenter, business men of Covington, appeared and urged opposition to the stream pollution bill before the House at Richmond, declaring that the bill would close the pulp mill at that place, which has an annual pay roll of $1,800,000, and which pays freight bills annually amounting to $1,600,000. The meeting cleared up the fact that the bill came from the State Game and Fish Commission, that Delegate Brown, of Lynchburg, is not its author and that he only presented it by request.

Petersburg—When W. J. Rahily was arrested here yesterday on a Federal warrant charging him with having parts of a still in his possession, it made the greatest number of prohibition charges ever lodged against one tire State. Rahily faces seven charges, six in local courts, four of these being for selling whiskey, one for storing it and the other for operating a place for the sale of liquor. He has been indicted on all six.

THE EDITOR WINKED

A preacher came at the editor in this way: "You editors do not tell the truth. If you did you could not live, your newspaper would be a failure."

And the editor came back at the minister in this manner: "You are right, and the minister who will at all times under all circumstances tell the whole truth about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy his pulpit more than one Sunday, and then he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with white-wash brushes and pleasant words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, the pen and the gravestone are the great saint-making triumvirate."

And the great minister went away looking very thoughtful while the editor turned to his work, and told of the unsurpassing beauty of the bride, who in fact was as homely as a mud fence.—Madelia News.

WOMAN'S COMPLEX LIFE

Woman's complex life with its multitudinous calls is given as the reason for many a nervous breakdown. Home work, social obligations, dressmaking and the care of children keep the 20th century woman in a whirlwind of activity until headaches develop, backaches, nervousness and oftentimes more serious ills which are peculiar to her sex alone. Such women should not despair, but be guided by the letters so often published in this paper from women who have been in just such conditions, but who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This is a root and herb medicine that contains no drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

BILL TO STOP 'EASY' DIVORCES

providing or preventing; and

"Whereas, it is conceded that the happiness and security of any people living in a State or organized society depends in a large measure upon a due regard for the sanctity of the married relations, and for that reason the public interest is affected by and involved in every suit for divorce or the annullment of the marriage ties; and

"Whereas, it is further considered that the people of the Commonwealth, in every such uncontested suit or whenever the court or judge thereof shall deem it for the probable good, should proceed through a duly appointed representative and defend or contest the same."

The bill provides that whenever any suit for divorce or the annullment of a marriage hereafter instituted shall have been matured by the due execution of the process therein, and the respondent shall fail to defend or contest the same or whenever the court or the judge thereof in vacation shall be of opinion at any time during the progress of the suit that the respondent is not defending same in good faith, or that the public interest requires it, the court shall appoint some discreet and competent attorney a guardian an litem who shall defend the suit in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The bill provides that the guardian shall not be related to or connected with the parties, nor have any interest in the matter of controversy. In case the respondent shall fail to enter his appearance in any suit the clerk of courts where in said suit is pending may also appoint such a guardian ad litem at rules.

Heed The Danger Signals!

IF we are not "fit as a fiddle" in the morning; if we don't feel better than when we went to bed; if our breath is offensive and we have that bad taste in the mouth, Nature has set the danger signals for us and we cannot afford to neglect the warning that she gives.

Probably eighty per cent of all diseases originate in the digestive organs, so it is evident that if we have stomach trouble, however slight, we are foolish indeed if we do not take prompt steps to correct it.

Stomach trouble is almost always followed by a complication of diseases. One of the first being an overworked liver, with all the symptoms of biliousness, followed in turn by headaches, coated tongue, dizzy spells, pain in the back, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms.

Sooner or later the kidneys will become involved and that is just why these danger signals should be heeded in time. A wise man puts out the fire before there is too much destruction. The same theory should apply to stomach trouble.

The American people have learned that Tanlac probably provides the surest, safest and quickest remedy for all such troubles, and millions upon millions have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results.

That is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac and that is why it is proclaimed the world's Greatest Tonic.

SHE IS "FULL OF PEP" THEY SAY

She is Good-Looking and Gay and is Always Ready for a Good Time

Why is a girl popular? Look around and see what a good time the good-looking ones have all the time. Men seek them out and ask them to parties dances and entertainments. And notice that it is not the doll-face type real men like most, but the red-blooded girl with "pep" and happy good nature. Any girl who is tired and languid and has a poor complexion and dull eyes can improve her condition and be far happier if she will simply take Gude's Pepto-Mangan until she has put her blood into good condition. Red blood means "full of life" and "full of life" usually means happiness.

Try Gude's Pepto-Mangan and see how much better you feel. Doctors have used it nearly thirty years for weak, run-down people. It helps them get well. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

AT RICHMOND LEGISLATURE

"appeal or right" bill, was called up and Senator Cannon said that the law, which was enacted two years ago, had served to congest the docket of the Supreme Court and had almost swamped the office of the Attorney-General in writing briefs in unimportant litigation. He did not see that the retention of the measure on the books would serve any good purpose.

Seantor Leedy did not think the new law had been given sufficient trial at the hands of the court, and he would retain it for the present. He did not thing other States which had the law had overworked the judges. Senator Robertson, of Rockbridge, said he had supported the measure two years ago with reluctance, and he was satisfied that it had not proven a wise move. He recited the cases of two notorious bank thieves who had after conviction, succeeded in escaping by reason of the operations of the law.

The bill was passed by a vote of 32 to 4.

Senate bill No. 7, by Senator Andrews, which sought to authorize insurance to require borrowers of money to insure his life, or that of another, with the company making the loan, was taken up. This policy is now observed in Virginia, but local companies are forbidden to do this business, while companies outside of the State can and do enforce such requirements. Senator Dodson opposed the bill and made the motion which sent the measure to its death by a vote of 25 to 12.

Senate bill 33, by Senator Andrews The bill making the salary of judges of circuit courts $3,600 a year was strongly opposed by Senator Beverley, but it was finally passed after a hard fight, 30 to 6.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now,—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it.

When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S.S.S. is a scientific blood cleanser,—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S.S.S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood-cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Let S. S. S. Give You An Angelic Skin!

NO BATHS IN NEAR EAST

Richmond, Jan. 26.—Virginia's housing shortage has nothing on the bath tub shortage of the Near East, according to O. W. Hopper, regional director in charge of work in Virginia. Mr. Hopper lives in Richmond and returned last fall from a three months tour of the afflicted countries in question.

"So short are the bathing facilities in Alenandropol Armenia, that the children have to be waked in the middle of the night to get their turn at the showers," Mr. Hopper declared yesterday in discussing the work of the Near East. "The day time wasn't long enough to provide a bath a week for each of the eighteen thousand orphans in America's Near East Relief Orphanages, which house the largest collection of children in the world, but baths they must have so one of the directors hit upon the plan of day and night shifts "It worked wonderfully," Mr. Hopper declared, "The Youngsters who are assigned to the small hours of the morning look upon their nocturnal march to the bathing apartments as a front lark. They never before in their lives had seen a shower bath and it's a delightful novelty to them. So much so that the otherwise odious process of bathing is missing part of a night's sleep for laundry tubs were their lot before, and bathing wasn't so popular."

Mr. Hopper is in charge of the drive of the Near East Relief in the Southern region and is taking a special interest in the work in this State because of his residence here. Three hundred thousand dollars, for the support of 5,000 children over seas is being raised in this State as it quota this year.

was put up until today, and nothing developed about the naval treaty. That treaty still is delayed over the Pacific fortifications, which, officially, continued to be discussed over the cables of Tokio and the Japanese delegations here.

The one point of progress was the announcement, after the thirty-third session of the Japanese and Chinese delegations, that agreement had been reached on all collateral questions, leaving only the railway issue unsettled.

It is rather difficult to visualize what is going on around the Chinese, as they seek to decide what to do with the compromise, while the balance of the Conference looks at them and waits. On the one hand, it is probable, is a feeling that the Conference and American interest in Shantung have got them more from the Japanese than they ever would have got otherwise. On the same hand, it is probable, is a very kindly feeling for the American delegate and a desire to oblige. But, on the other hand, is something strange to American minds—a fear that is not political, but is personal and perhaps physical.

At recurring intervals since the negotiations have been started between the Chinese and Japanese delegations over Shantung there have been upheavals of sentiment among the Chinese people in this country and in China. They have appeared when there seemed any possibility of yielding to Japan. And as the talk lately of a compromise has become more definite, the usual thing has happened, and today the town hears talk about fierce threats against the delegation and armed guards to protect the members.

Because of this upheaval it is thought that at the moment the compromise offer is being passed back and forth between the delegation and Peking, each wanting the other to assume the responsibility for acceptance. In the end, most of those on the scene believe the delegation will accept the compromise and use the interview yesterday between President Harding and Secretary Hughes and Minister Sze as an alibi to offer the extremists. The obvious fact that the American delegation wants the compromise accepted, plus the White House interview, may prove very serviceable for defensive purposes.

Spurned Duke, Divorces American

WASHINGTON—Society here was stirred when it became known that Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt, one-time belle of Washington and daughter of the late Senator Elkins, whose romance with the Duke of Abruzzi a decade ago kept the capital agog for several years, has obtained a divorce from William E. R. Hitt, son of Representative Hitt of Illinois. The Third Paris Chamber on June 20 last issued a decree which made the divorce effective sixty days later, when Hitt failed to enter a demurrer against the French verdict. Both are here. Mrs. Hitt is at the home of her mother, the widow of Senator Stephen B. Elkins. Mr. Hitt has been staying at the home of his mother, Mrs. Robert R. Hitt. Since the Hitts returned to the United States on different ships, gossip and rumor have been rife in Washington. It was accepted by their friends that they were divorced, but nothing was definitely known about the affair. Rumor here has it that the Hitts see much more of each other since the reported divorce than they did before, and they are reported as getting along famously.

It is rumored in New York that James A. Stillman and Mrs. Florence Leeds have left this country and are en route to Paris. According to reports, the banker may seek a rapid-fire divorce in French courts from his wife, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman.

SOUP BOWLS FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Richmond, Jan. 26.—Forty thousand soup bowls, enough to hold 5,000 gallons of soup, have just been shipped from Norfolk to 292 Near East Relief asylums in Syria and Armenia, according to dispatches just received from New York by Oliver J. Sands, of Richmond State Chairman of the Near East Relief in Virginia. These soup bowls, a "rush order," were shipped at the urgent demands of officials abroad to meet an emergency which suddenly sprung up when thousands of hungry, ragged children and refugees were summarily transported from the Volga River section of Russia to the district surrounding Constantinpole and turned out to live or die.

Mr. Sands declared today that he was informed the only chance of life these people had was the generosity of America. Otherwise starvation stares them in the face. Although already burdened wih the support of 110,000 orphaned children under its care the Near East Relief is endeavoring to give these people a bowl of soup and a crust of bread a day.

"This condition makes it more urgent than ever that Virginia raise its quota of $300,000 as quickly as possible. Mr. Sands said in commenting on the situation. Surely Virginia will show here compassion for the suffering of these stricken nations by opening her purse strings and giving to this great cause to the limit. Every dollar may be the means of preserving a human life. It would be the greatest deed Virginia ever did if she were to take under her protection, a thousand of these mouths to food by over subscribing her quota."

WHAT SHALL I DO WITH THEM?
Give them away—throw them away—sell them to old shoe dealers? Not a bit of it, dear lady. Bring them here and watch us transform those old, dilapidated, shapeless, apparently useless shoes into the finest looking footwear you ever saw. Don't believe we can do it? It will cost you nothing if we don't prove it to you.

General M'Arthur to Wed is Report

WASHINGTON—The brief War Department order granting permission to Brigadier-General Douglas MacArthur, Superintendent of the Military Academy at West Point, to go aboard for two months has set in motion the rumor of a possible honeymoon trip. Report has it that the engagement of General MacArthur and Mrs. Louis Cromwell Brooks will be announced shortly. Mrs. Brooks is the only daughter of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia, by her first husband, the late Oliver Cromwell, of New England and Washington. She divorced Walter Brooks, of Baltimore, in France in 1919 She is a noted beauty. General MacArthur had a distinguished career in France, where he was known as a progressive commander, both in methods and achievements.

Liner is Frosted Like Phantom Ship

When the steamship Lorraine arrived in New York she looked like she had made a trip in Polar seas. From bow to stern the liner was covered with ice, dusted with a coating of snow that glistened like crystals. The photo shows part of the ice-coated ship and also the Countess de la Rochette.

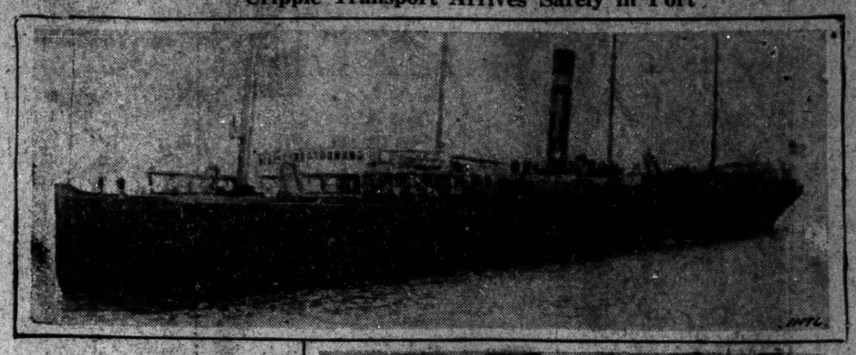
Cripple Transport Arrives Safely in Port



The United States Army Transport Cook, which had been fighting slowly to make port since it sprang several leaks far out at seat five days before its arrival, docked slowly at her pier in Brooklyn, N. Y. The rail was lined with cheering doughboys from Cobienz who had been members of the American forces in Germany Many of them are bringing back French or German wives. Nearly 1,000 soldiers were on board. The above photograph of the Crook was made upon her arrival in New York. Below, Captain Frank Reppa og the Crook, who kept that boat going and brought her into port under her own power. He was given a hearty cheer by the men aboard when they were again on terra firma.

First Pictures of Rioting in Cairo

A scene at the railway station at Cairo, after the rioters had set fire to the station and torn up the tracks. British troops had to defend the Egyptian police and firemen, who worked hard against the mob. The rioting, it is said, was caused by Lord Allenby's order expelling Zaghlul Pasha from Cairo.

VETERANS MAKE UP NEW FRENCH CABINET

Several of the members of Poincare's new Cabinet have been identified with previous ministries, some of them with that of Aristide Briand which is now being displaced. Most conspicuous among these is Louis Barthou, who was Minister of War under Briand, although one of the ex-Premier's bitterest political enemies. In the new Cabinet Barthou becomes Minister of Justice and represents Alsace-Lorraine. He was Premier in 1913, when Poincare, as President, forced through the three year compulsory military service law. Minister of Colonies Albert Sarraut held the same post in the Briand Cabinet and is now head of the French delegation at the Armament Conference in Washington, Yves Letrocquer, by accepting the Ministry of Public Works, fills that post for the third successive time, having served both under Georges Leygues and Briand. Andre Maginot is the War and Pensions head.
